SKI ARGENTINA

WHY ARGENTINA?

For starters try the most varied resort terrain in the Southern Hemisphere at Cathedral Mountain Bariloche, with its choice of bowls, chutes and tree runs, or the cruisy groomed and awesome out-of-bounds at nearby Cerro Bayo. Then there's the breathtaking scenery, sensational nightlife, great food, stylish shopping.

And it's all amazing value — the best steak you will ever eat and a great bottle of wine for maybe $25 ..

resort catedral alta patagonia (cathedral mtn) bariloche

cerro bayo, villa la angostura

Argentina's #1 ski resort offers a huge 1130m vertical of above & below treeline terrain, 100km of marked runs, 600cm average snowfall and by far the biggest lift network in South America, including express lifts top-to-bottom. Great selection of mountain restaurants with spectacular views. The village bustles by day then goes quiet at night as the daily rush up from Bariloche disappears again. Downtown shops & restaurants open late, the nightlife all night. Lots of excursions and activities in the area.

Ski Terrain: 100km marked runs, huge off-piste
Elevation: Top 2180m, Base 1050m, Vertical Rise 1130m
Difficulty: Easy 30%, Intermediate 40%, Advanced 30% + off piste
Lifts: 40 (incl express 6, express quad, express gondola)
Freeride: Terrain park with it's own triple chair

Ski and see more of Patagonia on one trip - the boutique lake resort town of Villa La Angostura is the Noosa of Argentina, popular with well-heeled locals in summer and with excellent skiing at Cerro Bayo just 8km from town in winter. A new $40m resort development program will convert this into a major area with an on-snow village, but for now it's a great add-on for a few days to a full week at Bariloche using the same airfare, eg make a 2 week 2 resort trip ex-Australia with up to 12 days skiing.

Ski Terrain: 250+ ha, open bowls, steeps, forest runs
Elevation: Top 1780m, Base 1030m, Vertical Rise 750m
Difficulty: Easy 20%, Intermediate 30%, Advanced 50%
Lifts: 13 (NEW Gondola, 6 double, 2 single chairs, 4 surface lifts)
Freeride: Terrain park with rails & jumps

DEEP POWDER WEEKS

$290pp add on to any Bariloche ski week package

Our resident experts show you the best snow on this massive mountain, with hosted skiing/riding in small groups, optional social activities & the local lowdown on where to eat, shop, go out & stuff to see & do. Every week from 02/07 to 18/09, limited space.

Groups split according to ability (minimum strong intermediate) so strong powder skiers can go hard to get the best when it dumps while cruiser skiers/riders can enjoy the best runs each day to suit their style. Includes intro session on Sunday + 4 in 5 hosted days with 3 - 4 hours skiing daily at your level, ideal for couples/friends/singles. NB these are not instructional programs, our resort hosts can easily arrange these for you.

SEE ARGENTINA

But wait there's more!

Argentina offers so much for visitors, and it's easy to add attractions like Iguazu Falls or the glaciers, plus a shopover to remember in Buenos Aires, one of the world's great cities.

Distances are vast, like Australia, so check with our consultants what works for your timeframe and budget — air pass options make it best to pre book your core itinerary for sightseeing/stopovers with your ski package and most flight options will necessitate at least one night stopover in Buenos Aires.

GETTING THERE

It's easy to be on snow in South America the same day you leave, with direct non-stop flights to Buenos Aires on Qantas/Lan, or flights via Auckland on Lan/Qantas to Santiago or Aerolineas Argentinas to Buenos Aires.

Bariloche is a 2 hour flight from Buenos Aires (with same day connections off Qantas direct flights); Cathedral Mountain is 45km and Cerro Bayo 80km from the airport there.

Valle Nevado is only 67km from Santiago Airport, while Portillo is 160km away.

We can add stopovers and extras like the Patagonian glaciers at El Calafate, the world's most southerly ski resort outside Ushuaia in Tierra Del Fuego &/or Iguazu Falls.

Fares and surcharges fluctuate; our consultants will add the best available fares and flights to suit your itinerary. For extended travel in South America air pass options work well, these should be booked early for best availability.

valle nevado

Valle Nevado has a spectacular setting high on a ridgeline at 3000m beneath high peaks. The skiing rolls over a series of valleys with open cruising groomed runs and big off piste plus day heliski options. Has Chile's only express chair, an ISF half pipe and exceptional food and service. Ski Weeks run Friday - Friday, mini-weeks Fri - Tues or Tues - Fri. Restaurants, ski school, shops, bars, 3 hotels, equipment hire, repairs & tuning, child care, day kids programs, heliski. Packages include breakfasts and dinners.

Ski Terrain: 40km marked runs, huge off-piste Elevation: Top 3670m, Base 2860m, Vertical 810m
Difficulty: Easy 35%, Int 40%, Adv 25% Lifts: 11 (express quad, quad, triple, double, 7 surface lifts)

AIRPORT Santiago 100 -150mins/60km, share shuttle transfer from @ $140pp return

Hotel Valle Nevado

Five star ski in/ski out luxury is yours from this deluxe property with 51 rooms and suites. All have terrace overlooking the slopes or mountains. Wi fi in rooms.

Hotel Puerta Del Sol - Valle Nevado

Towering high over the resort the largest hotel here is less than 30m from the slopes and directly connected to the heated pool. Wi fi in public areas. Bar, outdoor pool, sauna, exercise room, ski lockers.

Hotel Tres Puntas - Valle Nevado

The most casual hotel, ideal for younger skiers, is across carpark from slopes and village complex. Pub Tres Puntas. Wi fi in public areas. Outdoor pool, ski lockers.

American owned Portillo offers a unique almost private club like experience. With just 450 guests it's never crowded. The terrain is cruisy down the middle and steep on the sides. The 4 meals a day are a real highlight. Ski Weeks run Saturday - Saturday only and main season books out early. Restaurant, ski school, pool, cinema, pub, disco, sports centre, equipment hire, repairs & tuning, beauty parlour, shop, child care, heliski.

Ski Terrain: 30km groomed trails, huge off-piste Elevation: Top 3322m, Base 2510m, 812m

AIRPORT Santiago 3 hours +/-164km, share shuttle transfer from @ $140pp return

Hotel Portillo

The Hotel Portillo beside Laguna Del Inca is like a cruise ship anchored amid awesome slopes. It's fully self contained with the skiing on your doorstep. With 450 guests at full capacity, crowds are never a problem here, but bookings can be, so please book early for popular dates.

Octagon Lodge ★★

OCTAGON LODGE: Annexe offering small 4 bunk ensuite rooms adjacent to hotel with same 4 meals a day in the main hotel restaurant as for hotel guests so it's excellent value.

INCA LODGE: Basic backpacker 4 bunk rooms with share bathroom. Meals in self service cafeteria, not main hotel.

Inca Lodge - Portillo ★

SANTIAGO sits at the foot of the high Andes, a booming Latin American city offering great shopping, restaurants, pubs and nightlife, plus day tour options like wineries or the Pacific Coast. Ask for our special stopover rates.
